

Oi Donyo Wuas

Chyulu Hills

Oi Donyo Wuas is situated on the slopes of the Chyulu Hills, with exclusive access to a quarter of a million acres of one of the few remaining wilderness areas of East Africa. The open plains, rolling Chyulu Hills and snow capped peak of Kilimanjaro invoke images of Africa as it was in the earlier part of the last century; wildlife and Maasai herdsman living as nature determined they should in this unspoilt corner of Kenya. Oi Donyo Wuas in Maasai means "The Spotted Hills", and is the name given by the Maasai to the Chyulu Range which runs between Amboseli and Tsavo National Parks. Oi Donyo Wuas is looked after by Richard and Tara Bonham with a team of dedicated and friendly staff.

Accommodation

Oi Donyo Wuas has a total of 22 beds in seven stand alone cottages. Some are two bedded, while others are four bedded with their own private sitting room and swimming pool. These four bedded lodges are perfect for families or small groups of friends who prefer that extra privacy.

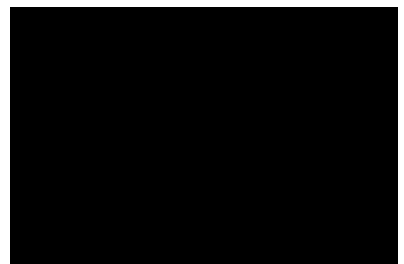

All bedrooms now have spacious ensuite bathrooms with superb views, a shower and bath, twin vanities, a flush loo with an additional outdoor shower for those who prefer.

All rooms (except the Hide) have their own rooftop sundowner / "star-beds" spot where guests enjoy dramatic views over the plains and onto Kili. More adventurous guests have the option to sleep out safely on these rooftops to enjoy a night sleeping under the stars.

The lighting is solar powered as is the hot water of the showers, with an emergency back-up system for overcast days.
