

Rekero Camp

Masai Mara

Situated in the Masai Mara Game Reserve, close to the confluence of the Mara and Talek rivers, the camp is shaded by a riverine forest and overlooks the Talek river, often a prime area during the wildebeest migration. The Reserve and the adjacent Conservation area totals 750 square miles and forms the northern tip of the Serengeti-Masai Mara eco-system. Gerard and Rainee Beaton and Jackson Ole Looseyia own Rekero and together with Salaash Morompi make up the hosting team.

Accommodation

Seven spacious tents, all of which have the capacity of being a double, twin or triple and one family tent which can comfortably accommodate 2 adults and up to 4 children. All tents have terraces overlooking the Talek river and ensuite bathrooms with flush loos and safari showers.

Lighting is by a solar powered inverter in the tents and kerosene lanterns are situated in front of the tents to provide subtle lighting of the exterior and front. No hair dryers in tents. Mineral water in tents.
